

Azure Tech Communities Group Leader June Communication

Subject: Azure Tech Communities June Update

Date: June 2020

Hello Azure Tech Communities group leaders!

We can't believe it's June already! Microsoft Build 2020 is behind us, but there are still many great opportunities ahead for the remainder of 2020. Check out the resources, content and connection opportunities below.

Don't miss the June Group Leaders Quarterly Call

Join us June 18th for the group leaders quarterly call. These quarterly calls provide a great opportunity to connect with the Azure Tech Communities team, hear about new resources to support your groups, and find out where the program is going. The call will take place twice to accommodate time zones:

16:00 – 16:45 GMT

1:00 – 1:45 GMT.

We can't wait to chat with you on June 18th!

Microsoft Build on-demand sessions

We hope you and your community members were able to attend Microsoft Build 2020 last month. We encourage everyone to go check out the on-demand sessions, especially the country-focused community sessions in which many Azure Tech Communities group leaders were featured.

Microsoft Build Digital SWAG

Because we couldn't meet in person this year, the Build team has taken the new designs for Build and turned them into a collection of digital swag that's free for you to use and share! In this collection you'll find desktop wallpapers, Apple Watch faces, and Twitter headers in a mix of dark and light themes.
